

RWE and Eon give best information

Handelsblatt, June 4, 2008

Energy suppliers RWE and Eon got the best marks for their transparency towards investors and for their capital communication. In the national ranking of London-based Institutional Investor Research Group (IIRG), for the fourth time in a row, RWE ranked first among German companies. Eon defended its second rank, while in the chemical sector LANXESS made the best investor-relations performance. The IIRG analysts evaluate transparency and quality of the financial reports, websites and conference calls, as well as quality and speed of answering detailed questions.
